Dear Dr. Haiman,

Enclosed you will find a card, which I thought I had sent to my attorney to forward to you, since I did not have your address at the time. I found it the other day in one of my notebooks, and sadly realized that it had never been mailed.

My attorney's office recently forwarded your bill to me for the fees and costs you incurred during the course of my trial. As I mentioned to you on the phone prior to the trial, I am severely strapped financially at this point in time. I will however make monthly payments to you. Enclosed is a check for $50.00. I will make every effort to pay you this amount each month or more when possible, but I will at least pay something each month. If this arrangement is not acceptable to you, please let me know.

It's been quite a whirlwind this past month. I absolutely love my new job even though it's been very demanding. I've been swamped with challenges and obligations, but I still love it, so I know I'm in my right place! and        are adjusting just fine. It's been a real challenge because it's not HomeSchooling the way we knew it, but rather Independent Study. It's different, but still flexible and accomodating to my son's individual educational needs. We are happy and we are going in a positive direction.

Again, I thank you so very much from the bottom of my heart. Your testimony was most significant and thus invaluable to me and my children and our future. I am very grateful to you for your compassion and willingness to help me at a time when I really needed help. I trust all is well with you and your family. If I can ever be of any assistance to you, please don't hesitate to ask. Thank you again.

Sincerely,
