

3/1/91

Dear Dr. Haiman,

I met you last June at the picnic; I had my daughter & newborn son with me. You sent me your article on the self-disciplined child, & suggested I subscribe to Mothers. I never seemed to have enough time to thank you, but would like to do so now. I did subscribe to Mothers, & find it much more suited to my needs than either Parenting or Parents (although I still read those, too!). Your article has been very helpful in my raising _____, who turned two on Jan 31. She is quite precocious (not just by my unbiased, of course!, opinion; her doctor says so as well); coupling this factor with having a nine month old, she gets to be almost more than I can handle at times. Then I re-read your article & regain my perspective. If she only knew the tongue-lashings & possible "swats" you have saved her from, I would thank you herself.

Love,